MEMORANDUM FOR ALL GSA CONTRACTING ACTIVITIES

FROM: JOSEPH A. NEURAUTER
DEPUTY ASSOCIATE ADMINISTRATOR &
SENIOR PROCUREMENT EXECUTIVE
OFFICE OF ACQUISITION POLICY (MV)

SUBJECT: Adjustment of GSAM Acquisition-related Thresholds due to FAR Circular 2005-45 (Item I, Inflation Adjustment of Acquisition-Related Thresholds)

1. Purpose: The purpose of this Acquisition Letter is to revise the General Services Administration Acquisition Manual (GSAM) to comply with changes made to various acquisition thresholds by Item I of Federal Acquisition Circular 2005-45 (FAR Case Number 2008-024). The FAR Circular was published in the Federal Register on August 30, 2010, with an effective date of October 1, 2010. A copy of the Federal Register Notice, including the content of Item I of the FAR Circular, is attached for reference.

2. Background: FAR Case Number 2008-024 implements Section 807 of the Ronald W. Reagan National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2005 (Pub. L. 108-375). Section 807 provides for adjustment every 5 years of acquisition-related thresholds, except for Davis-Bacon Act, Service Contract Act, and trade agreements thresholds. This Final Rule also escalates some non-statutory acquisition-related thresholds for inflation. This is the second time such inflationary adjustments have been made. The first occurred as part of Federal Acquisition Circular 2005-13, effective on September 28, 2006.

The thresholds listed below are the most significant examples of those that were analyzed and adjusted in the Final Rule (2005-45). Please see the attached copy of the Federal Register Article for complete information.

- The simplified acquisition threshold (2.101) is raised from $100,000 to $150,000.
- The approval levels for CICA Justifications (6.304) and Limited Source Justifications for Schedules (8.405-6) are raised.
CO approval level: Raised from actions not exceeding $550,000 to actions not exceeding $650,000

Competition Advocate Approval: Raised from actions not exceeding $11.5 Million to actions not exceeding $12.5 Million

Head of Contracting Activity (or designee) approval: Raised from actions not exceeding $57 Million to actions not exceeding $62.5 Million

Senior Procurement Executive approval: Raised from actions over $57 Million to actions over $62.5 Million.

Commercial items test program ceiling (13.500) is raised from $5,500,000 to $6,500,000.

The cost or pricing data threshold (15.403-4) is raised from $650,000 to $700,000.

The prime contractor subcontracting plan (19.702) floor is raised from $550,000 to $650,000, (but for construction the floor rises from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000).

The authorization level for competitive 8(a) acquisitions (19.805) is raised from actions exceeding $5.5 Million to those exceeding $6.5 Million (manufacturing NAICS Codes), and from $3.5 Million to $4 Million for all other NAICS Codes.

The authorization level for HUBZone sole source awards (FAR 19.1306) is raised from actions that do not exceed $5.5 Million (manufacturing NAICS Codes) to $6.5 Million, and from $3.5 Million to $4 Million for all other NAICS Codes.

The authorization level for SDVOSB sole source awards (FAR 19.1406) is raised from actions that do not exceed $5.5 Million (manufacturing NAICS Codes) to $6 Million, and from $3 Million to $3.5 Million for all other NAICS Codes.

The Miller Act Bonding threshold for construction (28.102-1) rises from $100,000 to $150,000. Alternative payment protections (28.102-2(c)) now cover the span between $30,000 and the new Miller Act threshold of $150,000.

The general threshold for Past Performance Evaluations rises from $100,000 to $150,000 as part of the change to the simplified acquisition threshold. The separate threshold for Past Performance Evaluations for construction contractors (FAR 42.1502) rises from $550,000 to $650,000.

The following acquisition thresholds did not change:

The basic micro-purchase threshold (2.101) did not change. It remains at $3000 in general; at $2,500 for services subject to the Service Contract Act; and at $2,000 for construction subject to the Davis Bacon Act.

The threshold for synopses of proposed contract actions (5.2) and contract awards (5.3) remains at $25,000.
- While the threshold for Past Performance Evaluations for construction has changed, the threshold for A/E Performance Evaluations (42.1502(f)) has not. It remains at $30,000.

3. Effective Date: Immediately.

4. Termination Date: This Acquisition Letter remains in effect until the GSAM is amended.

5. Applicability. This Acquisition Letter applies to all GSA contracting activities.

7. Instructions: The GSA contracting community shall use the GSAM acquisition-related thresholds (shown below) that have been adjusted for inflation in accordance with related changes made to the FAR. In certain cases (such as the micro-purchase threshold), adjustments to the GSAM have also been made to reflect the previous inflationary adjustment from 2006 (when the general micro-purchase threshold was raised from $2500 to $3000).

Changes in Current GSAM.

SUMMARY: The Civilian Agency Acquisition Council and the Defense Acquisition Regulations Council (Councils) have agreed on a final rule amending the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) to implement section 807 of the Ronald W. Reagan National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2005 (Pub. L. 108-375) was conducted under FAR Case 2004-038 during FY 2005. The final rule for the first review was published in the Federal Register at 71 FR 57365, September 28, 2008. This is the second review of FAR acquisition-related thresholds, DoD, GSA, and NASA published a proposed rule in the Federal Register at 76 FR 57168, February 4, 2010. The preamble to the proposed rule contained a detailed explanation of—
- What an acquisition-related threshold is;
- What acquisition-related thresholds are subject to escalation adjustment under this case;
- How the Councils analyze statutory and nonstatutory acquisition-related thresholds; and
- The effect of this rule on the most heavily-used thresholds.

Eight respondents submitted comments on the proposed rule, which are addressed in the following section. The comments were coordinated with the Department of Labor and the Small Business Administration in areas of the regulation for which they are the lead agency. Any changes to Cost Accounting Standards thresholds will be dealt with under a separate case.

B. Analysis of Public Comments

1. Statutory Thresholds

a. All Statutory Thresholds

Comment: One respondent, while recognizing that this is a statutory requirement, believed that no inflation adjustments should be made at this time. The respondent views the threshold increases as a way to reduce Government oversight of Federal contracts and considers such reduction unwise, because of various congressional oversight hearings and reports of Inspectors General and the Government Accountability Office that have revealed "widespread systemic gaps in Government contracting oversight."

Response: As noted, this is a statutory requirement. Further, the intent is not to reduce Government oversight but to maintain the status quo, by adjusting thresholds to keep pace with inflation. If thresholds are not adjusted for inflation, the number of contracts subject to the acquisition-related threshold will continue to grow, because more and more contracts will be below the stated thresholds.

b. Prime Contractor Subcontracting Plan Thresholds (FAR 19.702)

Comment: One respondent stated that they were particularly pleased with the proposal to increase the threshold values in FAR part 19 relative to the need to submit an acceptable subcontracting plan. They consider the current threshold to be administratively burdensome. The respondent further recommended that the Councils should pursue legislative action to raise the threshold to a minimum of one million dollars.

Another respondent recommended increasing the prime contractor subcontracting plan threshold to $700,000, to be the same as the increased cost or pricing data threshold.

Response: The final rule raises the subcontracting threshold to $650,000, as required by the law that this case is implementing. Pursuing legislative changes is outside the scope of this case.

c. Miller Act (FAR 28.102 and 52.226-15)

Comment: Three respondents addressed the proposed increase in the Miller Act threshold. These respondents emphasized the importance of performance and payment bonds as a protection for subcontractors and taxpayers.

- One respondent stated that the law is "an unfortunate and contradictory statutory requirement." The respondent considered that the threshold increase will undermine the original protective purposes of the bonding requirements set forth in the Miller Act, because more Federal construction projects will be undertaken without the benefit of payment bond protection. In particular, this respondent noted that subcontractors are frequently small businesses, for whom lack of a payment bond may be disastrous. The respondent requested the Councils explain accurately to Congress the significant negative impact that such increases will have.

- Another respondent stated that the threshold increase is bad public policy, and the Councils should reconsider whether such thresholds are "acquisition-related thresholds" as contemplated by the Act.

- The third respondent urged the Councils not to increase the Miller Act surety bond threshold, but did not suggest rationale for noncompliance with the statutory requirement.
Response: The Councils do not agree that adjustment of thresholds for inflation will have the negative impact perceived by these respondents. As already stated, inflation adjustment of thresholds is a means of maintaining the status quo. It will not decrease the number of contracts that are subject to the Miller Act, but will prevent the relative number of contracts subject to the Miller Act from increasing. The rationale that there should be some level below which the Miller Act is not applicable is maintained by adjustment of the threshold for inflation. The law (40 U.S.C. 3132) provides alternate payment protection for contracts that exceed $30,000, so that contracts below the Miller Act threshold are not entirely without payment protection.

As to whether the Miller Act threshold is an acquisition-related threshold, this threshold clearly meets the definition that was set forth in the law, as consistently interpreted by the Councils since the enactment of the law in 2004. The law defines an acquisition-related threshold as a threshold that is set forth in law (the Miller Act), as a factor in defining the scope of the applicability of a policy, procedure, requirement, or restriction provided in that law to the procurement of property or services by an executive agency. As this definition is applied to the Miller Act threshold, the Miller Act requires payment and performance bonds when agencies acquire construction that is valued at more than the Miller Act threshold (raised by this rule from $100,000 to $150,000).

2. Nonstatutory Thresholds

Comment: One respondent was particularly concerned about the proposed increase in nonstatutory thresholds. In particular, this respondent cited three examples of threshold increases which the respondent considered questionable:

- Approval levels for limited source justifications at FAR 8.405-6. The respondent stated that increasing such approval levels appears inconsistent with the President’s March 4, 2009, Memorandum.

- The threshold at FAR 22.1103 for use of the solicitation provision FAR 52.222-48, Evaluation of Compensation for Professional Employees. The respondent stated that when contractors pay very low wages and benefits, work quality can suffer and the Government may bear hidden costs because of the need to provide income assistance to low income families.

- The threshold for subcontracting plans governed by FAR 19.702. The respondent stated that the increase of this threshold would have a detrimental impact, especially on small businesses.

Response: Although there is no statutory requirement to increase the nonstatutory thresholds, the same rationale applies as to why escalation to adjust for inflation is a good idea. If there was any rationale for the level at which the thresholds were originally put in place by policy, the thresholds will become further and further out of line with the original policy decision if they are left unchanged. In addition to this general rationale, the Councils add the following two particular responses:

- In particular, the approval levels for limited source justifications at FAR 8.405-6 were selected to be consistent with the statutory thresholds at FAR 6.304(a). Therefore, it is reasonable to escalate these thresholds the same as the thresholds at FAR 6.304(a) to maintain the consistency.

- Although the respondent cited the threshold for subcontracting plans governed by FAR 19.702 as an example of a nonstatutory threshold, this threshold is actually a statutory threshold (15 U.S.C. 637(d)(4)), which must therefore be escalated.

3. Increase Penalties

Comment: One respondent recommended that the Councils should also increase the maximum dollar amount of penalties when increasing the acquisition-related threshold contained in the same statute. According to the respondent, by not increasing the penalty for failure to disclose unallowable activities, the Councils are providing contractors a greater incentive to violate the law.

Response: The penalties are set by statute. The law that the FAR Council is implementing did not authorize the FAR Council to increase penalties, only the acquisition-related thresholds.

4. Implementation

Two Government employees provided comments relating to the implementation of the rule.

a. Provide a Matrix

Comment: One respondent requested a matrix of changes in order to save everyone from doing the analysis and matrix development. Although the comment was submitted in response to the FAR rule, the respondent requested that the Councils provide a Defense Federal Acquisition Regulation Supplement (DFARS) matrix, so this may have been intended as a comment on the DFARS inflation adjustment rule.

Response: In 2006, the URL of a matrix was provided at FAR 1.109(d).

Likewise, the current matrix is again available and the Councils have provided a revised Web address to access it.

b. Effective Date

One respondent expressed concern over the large number of systems changes that this rule will require and the difficulty of implementation in a short period of time. The respondent recommended providing ample time between the release of firm requirements and the required implementation.

Response: Although the Councils hoped to publish this final rule in time to allow 60 days for implementation, they were unable to meet that goal. The effective date of October 1, 2010, allows only a little more than the standard 30 days for implementations, but this effective date is consistent with the statutory requirements and the desired procedures for implementation of changes that impact the Federal Procurement Data System at the beginning of the fiscal year.

C. Changes Between the Proposed Rule and the Final Rule

Although there were no changes between the proposed rule and the final rule as the result of public comments, some of the thresholds changed due to lower inflation than was projected at the time of publication of the proposed rule. The proposed rule was based on a projected consumer price index (CPI) of 222 in April 2010. The final rule is based on an actual CPI of 217.631 through the end of March 2010. The end of March, 6 months before the effective date of the rule, is used as the cutoff in order to allow time for approval and publication of the final rule.

Because the actual CPI is more than 4 points lower than the projected CPI, the proposed thresholds of at least $13 million are generally proportionally lower. Thresholds of less than $13 million were generally unchanged, due to rounding.

The effect of the final rule on heavily-used thresholds is the same as stated in the preamble to the proposed rule:

- The micro-purchase base threshold of $3,000 (FAR 2.101) is not changed.
- The simplified acquisition threshold (FAR 2.101) is raised from $100,000 to $150,000.
- The FedBizOpps preaward and post-award notices (FAR part 5) remain at $25,000 because of trade agreements.
- Commercial items test program ceiling (FAR 13.500) is raised from $5,500,000 to $5,500,000.
The cost or pricing data threshold (FAR 15.403–4) is raised from $550,000 to $700,000.

The prime contractor subcontracting plan (FAR 19.702) floor is raised from $550,000 to $850,000, and the construction threshold of $1,000,000 increases to $1,500,000.

This final rule is a significant regulatory action and, therefore, was subject to review under section 6(b) of Executive Order 12868, Regulatory Planning and Review, dated September 30, 1993. This rule is not a major rule under 5 U.S.C. 804.

D. Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Department of Defense, the General Services Administration, and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration certify that this final rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities within the meaning of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601, et seq., because the adjustment of acquisition-related thresholds for inflation maintains the status quo. The Councils note that the set-aside threshold of $100,000 increases to $150,000, which is not a detriment to small businesses. Although several respondents were concerned about the impact of some of the threshold changes on small businesses (see comment and response at B.1.c. and B.2.), the Councils reiterate that adjusting a threshold in an amount sufficient to keep pace with current inflation is neutral in impact on small businesses because it just maintains the status quo.

E. Paperwork Reduction Act

The Paperwork Reduction Act applies; however, these changes to the FAR do not impose additional information collection requirements to the paperwork burden previously approved under OMB Control Numbers:

Federal Acquisition Regulation;
Definition of Cost or Pricing Data

AGENCIES: Department of Defense (DoD), General Services Administration (GSA), and National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Civilian Agency Acquisition Council and the Defense Acquisition Regulations Council (Councils) have agreed on a final rule amending the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) to clarify the distinction between “certified cost or pricing data” and “data other than certified cost or pricing data,” and to clarify requirements for submission of cost or pricing data.

DATES: Effective Date: October 1, 2010.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

A. Background

Subpart 15.4 of the FAR describes the contracting officer’s responsibility to purchase supplies and services at fair and reasonable prices and the use of data and information in meeting this requirement. This subpart incorporates the requirements of the Truth In Negotiations Act (TINA), 10 U.S.C. 2308a and 41 U.S.C. 254b, which address the requirements for the submission of cost or pricing data and the circumstances under which a contractor must certify to their accuracy, completeness, and currency.

The Councils believe that the implementation of TINA in FAR subpart 15.4 is not sufficiently clear. In particular, there is confusion regarding the right of the Government to request “data other than certified cost or pricing data,” the obligation of the offeror to provide this data, and the definition of this term.

This lack of clarity is due, in large part, to definitions that overlap and are not identical to TINA. For example, the term “cost or pricing data” is defined in the FAR to mean certified cost or pricing data, whereas TINA does not make certification part of the definition of this term. This regulatory refinement has led to confusion regarding the level of information that a contracting officer may request to establish fair and reasonable pricing including a misunderstanding by some that the data elements that comprise cost or pricing data cannot be requested by the Government unless the data are required by law to be submitted to the contracting officer in a certified form. This confusion has been exacerbated by the FAR’s use of the phrase “information other than cost or pricing data,” which has made it difficult for contracting officers to understand the circumstances when data other than certified cost or pricing data should be obtained to protect the Government from paying unreasonable prices.

Even the basic articulation of policy regarding the use of data to establish the fairness and reasonableness of prices in the introductory paragraph of FAR 15.402(a) has lacked a certain level of clarity that creates uncertainty. For many years, this paragraph has appropriately cautioned contracting officers not to obtain information than is necessary—and the FAR must continue to do so. However this paragraph should also, but currently does not, expressly mention the underlying statutory authority to collect “data other than certified cost or pricing data.” Because of this omission, some contracting officers may be under the misperception that there is a greater responsibility to avoid asking unnecessarily for the submission of cost or pricing data than there is, in the first instance, to determine whether and how much of this data may be required, in a given case, to establish price fairness and reasonableness. In fact, both responsibilities—i.e., obtaining data that are adequate for evaluating the reasonableness of the price and taking appropriate care not to ask for more data than is necessary—are inextricably interrelated and equally important. As such, the FAR needs to communicate this message more clearly.

DoD, GSA, and NASA published a proposed rule in the Federal Register at 72 FR 20092, April 23, 2007, to revise the FAR definition of “cost or pricing data”; change the term “information other than cost or pricing data” to “data other than certified cost or pricing data”; add a definition of “certified cost or pricing data” to make the terms and definitions consistent with TINA and more understandable to the general reader; change terminology throughout the FAR; and clarify the need for contracting officers to obtain “data other than certified cost or pricing data” when there is no other means to determine fair and reasonable pricing during price analysis.

Based on comments received on the proposed rule, a public meeting held on November 1, 2007, and additional deliberations (which are all discussed in greater detail below), the Councils have adopted a final rule that—clarifies terminology used in the FAR to make it consistent with TINA, resulting in (i) refinements to the regulatory definition of cost or pricing data; (ii) the addition of a definition for “costed cost or pricing data,” (iii) the addition of a definition for “data other than certified cost or pricing data,” and
