Expo Menu Overview

One of the biggest challenges posed by travelling is the access to healthy food. We've worked hard to ensure you have access to the healthiest (and tastiest!) Expo food choices yet!

This week at Expo we're featuring food based on new guidelines recently released by GSA and the Department of Health and Human Services. These guidelines, which are being adopted in federal cafeterias and vending machines across the country, call for greater whole grain options, vegetarian options and lean meat entrees. They also require meals to be prepared with less sodium and sugar and be completely free of trans fats. The Guidelines are designed to make healthy choices more accessible and more appealing.
