Glossary of Acronyms and Terms for Federal Civilian Relocation
Foreword

The General Services Administration, Office of Governmentwide Policy, is pleased to issue this glossary of relocation acronyms and terms. We have developed this glossary as a companion to the other two relocation guidance documents that we have developed:

- “Relocation Policy Guide for Federal Civilian Agencies”
- “Handbook for Relocating Federal Employees”

To enhance readability, we have chosen to provide very few cross-references between this glossary and the Federal Travel Regulation (FTR) (available online at http://www.gsa.gov/ftr). However, the FTR is written in a plain language, question-and-answer format that we hope makes it easy to find what you need.

Please note that this is not a regulatory document. Chapter 302—Relocation Allowances of the FTR (41 Code of Federal Regulations 302 or 41 CFR 302) contains the actual rules for relocation of Federal civilian transferees. The FTR and not this guide is the controlling source for rules governing Federal civilian relocations.

Glossary of Terms

Acceptance Period: A fixed period of time (typically 30 to 90 days) during which the offer to buy a transferee’s primary residence is valid. This is also referred to as the contract marketing period.

Accession: A personnel action that results in the addition of a transferee to the rolls (staff) of a Federal agency.

Accompanied baggage: Government property and personal property of the traveler necessary for official travel.

Acquisition: The passing of beneficial ownership of a home from a transferee to the purchaser (RSC).

Acquisition and Carrying Costs: Those fees and charges associated with establishing an appraised value, taking a home into inventory (except for formal closing costs in which title passes from the transferee to the purchaser (relocation services company or in-house relocation department)), and keeping a home in inventory until ultimate resale. Typical fees and costs often associated are ERC Summary Appraisal Reports; Broker’s Market Analysis and Strategy Reports; inspections; certificates of occupancy; bank information; miscellaneous acquisition costs; insurance, utilities, and property taxes; maintenance fees; condo/association/homeowner/common area fees; mortgage interest; miscellaneous recurring carrying costs; home maintenance; repair fees; capital improvements; mortgage assumptions; assessments; rental management fees; miscellaneous non-recurring carrying costs; rental income credit; and interest on equity.

Administrative Costs or Expenses: Agency expenses to either operate an in-house homesale program or oversee the service performance of a third party supplier. In either case, this also includes all those employees involved in operating the agency’s homesale process, such as explaining the homesale program, distributing forms and booklets, updates, appeals,

* Denotes definitions reprinted with permission of Worldwide ERC®/Transferee Relocation Council from the ERC Glossary; in some cases these have been modified slightly to fit the federal context, as in substituting “agency” for “company.”
and so forth. These expenses are not readily associated with the handling of a specific property and include salaries and wages, rent depreciation, amortization of mortgages or loans, utilities, office supplies, telephone, postage, travel and living expenses, data processing, and transferee benefits. These expenses could include those costs for services provided by the agency outside of the homesale operating group itself, such as Legal, Tax, Financial, Auditing, Human Resources, Purchasing, and so forth that support the homesale operation. Also, the allocated cost (e.g., salary, overhead, benefits, etc.) of any executives that have overall responsibility for the homesale program, but are not a part of the operating group, may be included.

Agency: May refer to any of the following:

(a) An executive agency as defined in Title 5 USC §105 (an executive department, an independent establishment, the Government Accountability Office, or a wholly owned Government corporation as defined in section 101 of the Government Corporation Control Act, as amended (31 USC § 9101), but excluding a Government controlled corporation;
(b) A military department;
(c) A court of the United States;
(d) The Administrative Office of the United States Courts;
(e) The Federal Judicial Center;
(f) The Library of Congress;
(g) The United States Botanic Garden; or

Allowance for Overseas Tour Renewal Travel: A reimbursement for roundtrip travel and transportation expenses between an overseas post of duty and the transferee’s actual place of residence in the U.S.

Amend From Zero: A residential sale where a bona fide outside offer to buy a residence is received and accepted by a relocation services company prior to the completion of the appraisal process. A determination of price reasonableness is completed, generally with the use of one or more Broker’s Market Analysis (BMA’s). This type of transaction is then processed in the same manner as the Amended Value Sale. As with the Amended Value Sale, the employee does not sign, accept any funds or agree to the offer from the prospective buyer to be eligible for this program.
Amended Value Sale: A residential sale where a bona fide outside offer to buy a residence is accepted by a RSC. This offer can be equal to or higher than the guaranteed offer. If the contract is acceptable, the RSC will sign the contract and amend its guaranteed offer to reflect the new value based on the agreed upon sales price. The RSC will then disburse the transferee's equity (or remaining equity if a portion had been disbursed earlier) based upon this amended value, complete the acquisition of the property, and resell the home to the outside buyer. The employee does not sign, accept any funds or agree to the offer from the prospective buyer to be eligible for this program.

Amended Value Amount: When pursuant to a relocation policy, a transferee finds a potential buyer for his/her home, and the RSC determines that the offer is bona fide, the RSC will then amend its appraised value offer to the employee to reflect the value placed on the home. This new value, based upon a bona fide market offer, is the amended value amount.

Ancillary Services: Contracted services and fees, related to the relocation process, which are not a part of the homesale services. Examples would include services such as expense management, property management, direct billing of purchase closing costs, etc.

Application Fee: A fee charged by a lender for accepting a loan application and initiating the loan review process. It usually covers the nonrefundable charges (such as appraisals, credit reports, etc.) a lender incurs when deciding whether a loan can be granted.

Appraised Value: The anticipated sales price of real estate established by the relocation appraisal process.

Appraised Value Transaction: (Also known as Appraised Value Sale or Regular Transaction). A residential sale where two or more independent appraisers set the price for a guaranteed offer for the purchase of a residence. Under this option, once a transferee’s home is placed in the homesale program, a relocation services company (RSC) makes a guaranteed offer for the transferee’s home based on the fair market value established by independent appraisers. The offer is guaranteed by contract for a specified number of calendar days. If the transferee accepts the guaranteed offer within the time period, the RSC purchases the home, takes the home into its inventory, and disburses the transferee’s equity (or remaining equity if a portion had been disbursed earlier) based upon the offer. It is then the RSC’s responsibility to sell the home, and the agency pays the RSC a fee that covers the closing costs, other expenses, and all risk associated with any loses that the RSC may have in reselling the home.

Assignment: The method or manner by which a right, obligation, or contract is transferred from one person to another.

Attorney Fees: In real estate transactions, attorney fees are typically for the review of the real estate contract, title, and representation at a real estate closing.

Best Practice: A method, approach or application that simplifies or otherwise redesigns a work process to reduce costs, improve effectiveness or efficiency, enhance customer satisfaction and/or promote maximum use of available resources or technology. Notably, best practices are not “one size fits all” and can vary significantly from one organization to the next, depending on goals, resources, culture, etc. Moreover, practices designated as “best” can change rapidly as external influences, such as changes in the economy or enhanced technology, impact organizational goals and resources.

Broker: An individual, licensed in a state, who acts as an agent for another in negotiating sales or purchases in return for a fee or commission.

Broker’s Commission: Payment of money and/or other valuable consideration to a real estate broker for services rendered in performance of a contractual agreement.

Broker's Market Analysis (BMA)/Broker's Price Opinion (BPO): A written market analysis of recent comparable sales and listings with suggestions for marketing strategies.

Buyer's Value Option (BVO): A buyer's value option transaction is a variation of the amended value transaction in which no appraisals are obtained and usually no initial offer is made to the transferee. Although these transactions are sometimes referred to as "amend-from-zero" or "offers prior to appraisal," there is no initial appraised value offer to "amend", and should not be confused. Rather, the only unconditional offer is made at the "buyer's value," that is, the fair market value as determined by an offer from a potential buyer. Without a guaranteed buyout offer built into this program from the relocation company, agencies should use caution using this type of program as there could be potential tax consequences for the employee.

Cancellation Fee: Typically, a charge to the agency to cover the third party or in-house program administrative costs of deleting files and database information; sending disclaimers and cancellation notices to transferees; and placing stop orders on relocation appraisals, inspections, and similar services which are in process.

Carrying Costs: Recurring costs and extraordinary charges of holding a property in inventory. This could include insurance, utilities, mortgage interest, condominium dues, taxes, homeowner association dues, maintenance expenses, assessments, and repairs. All costs of holding and operating a property during the inventory or marketing period should be charged to this category.

Centralized Household Goods Traffic Management Program (CHAMP): GSA’s governmentwide program that gives Federal agencies access to HHG tenders for the movement of non military civilian personnel.

Chief Human Capital Officer (CHCO): The CHCO serves as his/her agency’s chief policy advisor on all human resources management issues and is charged with selecting, developing, training, and managing a high-quality workforce.

Closing: Usually a meeting between or among the parties to the contract of sale, their attorneys, and others who have an interest in the sale, such as a representative of the company issuing title insurance, if applicable. When all the details have been settled and terms of the contract complied with, the seller signs and delivers the deed to the buyer; the buyer in turn authorizes payment of the proceeds of the sale to the seller. In relocation, all or parts of a closing may be handled by mail, email or a combination of both, between the purchaser (RSC) and the transferee.

Closing Agent: A firm retained for purposes of processing the closing of the sale of the home.

Closing Assistance Option: Typically a relocation policy which applies in the situation in which a transferee obtains a potential buyer for his/her home before being initiated into a corporation’s relocation program and before an appraised value has been determined for his or her house. Here, the transferee usually has already signed an agreement to sell the home to a potential buyer, and under the terms of the closing assistance policy, the only assistance already offered by the purchaser (RSC) is to pay the transferee his/her equity in the home and to close the sale to the potential buyer. If for some reason the closing does not occur, the home is returned to the transferee for subsequent disposition by the transferee.

Closing Costs: Fees and charges associated with the closing, typically include broker’s commission, transfer taxes, legal and title expenses, revenue stamps, recording fees, and any other costs required by the mortgage lender. Usually considered direct costs. Also referred to as Settlement Costs.

Closing Fees: Fees charged by an attorney, title company, lender, escrow agent, or trust company to prepare the necessary documents for closing a sale. These fees are separate and distinct from attorney fees, title costs, and lender fees defined elsewhere.

Closing (Settlement) Statement: The statement of financial adjustments between the buyer and seller as of the day of closing to determine the amount of money the buyer must pay to the seller to complete the purchase of the real estate and seller's new proceeds. Most commonly reflected on a HUD-1 or similar statement.

Continental United States (CONUS): All areas in the 48 contiguous states and the District of Columbia.

Days in Inventory: The time period that begins on the date on which the offer to purchase the home from the transferee is executed and ends on the resale closing date.

Deductible Expenses: Deductible expenses are those that are included in the transferee's taxable income for which he/she is entitled to claim a Federal or state tax deduction.

Dependent: An immediate family member of the employee.

Destination Services: A wide array of services to agencies and their transferees and families at the destination location. Destination services may include the following: home-finding assistance, area counseling, mortgage financial counseling, rental assistance, temporary housing assistance, spouse-employment assistance, home inspection, etc. Some services may have fees associated with their provisions.

Direct Costs or Direct Expenses: Typically, those costs charged directly against a specific property, which are then billed back to an agency by the third party company. Usually, acquisition and carrying costs as well as disposition and selling costs are included. (Not applicable under fixed fee contracts)

Direct Reimbursement Program: Typically, a type of homesale program in which the agency does not guarantee an appraised value nor does it purchase the property from the transferee but does reimburse some or all direct selling costs.

Domestic partner: An adult in a domestic partnership with an employee of the same-sex.
Domestic Partnership: A committed relationship between two adults of the same sex, in which they:

(a) Are each other's sole domestic partner and intend to remain so indefinitely;
(b) Maintain a common residence, and intend to continue to do so (or would maintain a common residence but for an assignment abroad or other employment-related, financial, or similar obstacle;
(c) Are at least 18 years of age and mentally competent to consent to contract;
(d) Share responsibility for a significant measure of each other's financial obligations;
(e) Are not married or joined in a civil union to anyone else;
(f) Are not a domestic partner of anyone else;
(g) Are not related in a way that, if they were of opposite sex, would prohibit legal marriage in the U.S. jurisdiction in which they reside;
(h) Are willing to certify, if required by the agency, that they understand that willful falsification of any documentation required to establish that an individual is in a domestic partnership may lead to disciplinary action and the recovery of the cost of benefits received related to such falsification, as well as constitute a criminal violation under 18 U.S.C. 1001, and that the method for securing such certification, if required, shall be determined by the agency; and
(i) Are willing promptly to disclose, if required by the agency, any dissolution or material change in the status of the domestic partnership.

e-Travel: Name given to the Federal Government's end-to-end electronic environment encompassing travel authorization, travel arrangements and procurement, travel expense auditing, and reimbursement. E-travel also includes the E-GovTravel Service (ETS).

Effective Date: The date on the Notification of Personnel Action when the transferee is scheduled to report for work at the new official station. See also Report Date.

Executive Relocation Steering Committee (ERSC): An interagency group of relocation experts that works with GSA to develop relocation policy; GSA’s name for the “formal consultative mechanism” recommended by the GRAB.

Extended Storage: Storage of household goods while a transferee is assigned to a post of duty to which he/she was not authorized to ship HHG. Also referred to as non-temporary storage.

*Fair (Current) Market Value: The most probable price that a willing and well-informed buyer would be justified in paying and an equally informed seller would accept for a home placed in a competitive and open market for a reasonable period of time.

*Fixed Buy-Out Fee: Typically, a charge to an agency by a relocation services company to purchase a transferee’s home. Usually expressed as a percentage of appraised value and generally includes expenses for direct costs, resale loss, overhead, and profit opportunity. Adjustments to the fee are often not made on a home-by-home basis but may be made on a periodic basis—annual, for example—and the adjustments may be calculated based on a variety of factors, including actual cost experience, economic index rates, etc. (This would be spelled out in the contract.)

Formal Consultation Mechanism: As set forth in recommendations by the Governmentwide Relocation Advisory Board (GRAB), a collaborative group coordinated by GSA consisting of Federal agency relocation professionals and appropriate non-Federal relocation industry professionals that meet regularly for purposes of sharing information, benchmarks, and best practices, discussing relocation issues, and providing views (making recommendations) to GSA relative to relocation policies and administration. GSA has chosen to rename this group the Executive Relocation Steering Committee.

Gross-up: The extra personal income tax withholding provided by an agency to offset any additional personal income tax liability due to the fact the agency added taxable wages to the transferee’s W-2.

Guaranteed Buy-out (GBO): A guaranteed offer to purchase the home by a RSC under an Appraised Value Transaction.

Guaranteed Offer: The offer by the RSC to purchase a transferee’s principal residence typically based on the average of two or more appraisals with a fixed acceptance period.
Home: The transferee’s primary residence that is being sold in either a homesale program or that which he/she will be selling themselves. Typically, it is defined as real property containing an amount of land customary for the area. It is neither investment property nor a second home.

Home Marketing Assistance: Proactive marketing assistance designed to help the transferee market the primary residence by designing a customized marketing strategy and assist with offer negotiations. This assistance may be provided independently or in conjunction with the homesale program.

Home Marketing Incentive Payment (HMIP): An amount of money granted to a transferee for aggressively market their home while in a managed homesale program, that ultimately ends in an amended sale.

Home Marketing Period: Time during which the transferee may try to sell the home in the original location. Some employers require a mandatory marketing period before the transferee is eligible to accept the guaranteed offer.

Homesale Assistance: Reimbursement for expenses incurred in selling and/or purchasing a residence.

Home Selling Expenses: Expenses arising out of the sale of real estate such as brokers commission, transfer taxes, attorney and inspection fees, deed and recording fees, escrow or abstract fees, mortgage prepayment penalties, and incentives paid by the seller.

Homesale Program: That part of an agency’s relocation policy designed to facilitate a relatively fast, convenient means by which a transferee may sell his/her home with a minimum of time and effort. Usually accomplished through a RSC, by appraised value, amended value, or buyer value option sale.

Household Goods (HHG): Property, unless specifically excluded, associated with the home and all personal effects belonging to a transferee and immediate family members on the date he/she received notice of transfer that legally may be accepted and transported by a commercial HHG carrier. Indirect Expenses or Costs: A RSC’s expenses related to the operation of a homesale program which are not readily associated with the handling of a specific property. Examples include salaries and wages, rent, depreciation, amortization of mortgages or loans, utilities, office supplies, telephone, postage, public relations, marketing, travel and living expense, data processing, and transferee benefits. Mandatory Marketing Period: The period of time when participants in the third-party homesale program are required to make a good faith effort to market their home. Also, any other fee or rebate paid to the purchaser (RSC) for services rendered to the transferee or property, including payments from movers, title companies, carpet and paint suppliers, lenders, inspectors, appraisal firms, etc.

Regular Transaction: See Appraised Value Transaction.

Relocation Appraisal: The process by which the anticipated sales price of a residential housing unit, using the market data approach to value, is established and the form by which the anticipated sales price is reported. The purpose of this appraisal is to establish the anticipated sales price for a relocated transferee’s residence and assumes an arm’s length transaction. This is most often done according to the procedures in the ERC Summary Appraisal Report.

Relocation Incentive Bonus: A payment made to relocating transferees, in accordance with Office of Personnel Management rules, as an inducement for accepting an assignment that requires a transfer.

This date is normally the same as the “effective date” on the SF-50 unless the report date is delayed because the transferee is required to undertake a temporary duty assignment. In the event of a delayed report date, the allowed one year period for completing the relocation cannot exceed one year from the effective date on the SF-50 approving the relocation.

Request for Information (RFI): Before it purchases a product or service, the agency may issue a request for information seeking to gauge a market’s ability to meet the agency’s needs, identify potential suppliers, identify technical issues, identify potential risks, and seek guidance from the market place on how best to fulfill the agency’s needs.

Request for Proposal (RFP): Solicitation means any request to interested parties to submit offers or quotations to provide services or products to the Government. Solicitations under negotiated procedures are called "Requests for Proposals."
Relocation Income Tax Allowance (RITA): The payment to the employee to cover the difference between the WTA and the actual tax liability incurred by the employee as a result of their taxable relocation benefits; RITA is paid whenever the actual tax liability exceeds the WTA.

Relocation services company (RSC): A service company supplier retained by an agency to provide homesale services to its relocating transferees. In some instances, the third party company may administer a corporation’s home sale program and policies. Often synonymous with purchaser, third party company, and home-purchase company.

Service Agreement: A written agreement between a Federal transferee and his/her agency, signed by the transferee and an agency representative, stating that he/she will remain in the service of the Government for a period of time as specified in FTR §302-2.13, after the transferee is relocated.
