IMPORTANT UPDATE

Upcoming RGO Acquisition Changes

Revolutionary GSAM Overhaul (RGO) July 2026

Embraces the Revolutionary FAR Overhaul (RFO)

The RGO initiative enables GSA to assess and fundamentally reimage its acquisition system. GSA is taking this as an opportunity to formalize existing supply chain requirements within the GSA acquisition supplement. Click here to learn more about the RGO.

Part 540 Provision and Clause

GSA is continuing to strengthen the security and integrity of the products, services, and solutions available to GSA and our customers. As part of our ongoing commitment to supply chain security, we established a new GSAR provision (552.540-70) and clause (552.540-71) under GSAR part 540 that will:

- Formalize existing supply chain requirements.
- Provide consistent, transparent agency-wide framework and reduce inconsistencies.
- Support legislative and regulatory requirements.
- Provide security and threat mitigation.

Examples of Supply Chain Risks

- Supply chain relationships, visibility or controls
- Functionality, features or components
- Foreign ownership, control, or influence
- Compliance, legal or cybersecurity
- Government interests or geopolitical threats

How the New GSAR Part 540 Provision and Clause Affect You

GSA Contracting Officers

Short-Term: Active inclusion in forthcoming FSS refreshes and contract modifications.

Long-Term: Expansion to other GSA government-wide and critical sources.

Learn more: See FAQs.

Contractors and Offerors

Notification: GSA may notify you of identified risks depending on their degree and nature pre- or post-award.

Mitigation: Products or services may be temporarily removed during investigation or corrective action period.

Rulemaking: GSA will go through the rulemaking process for purposes of implementing the update made through its RGO effort.

⚠ POTENTIAL CONTRACT ACTIONS: If risks cannot be mitigated, GSA Contracting Officers have the authority to remove specific products, decline performance extensions, cancel or terminate contracts.
